Right! Right! Right!!!

The following petition is being circulated in Tombstone and in Cochise county, for the citizens to sign, and should be signed by every man, woman, and if necessary, every child that is old enough to write.

To HIS EXCELLENCY GROVER CLEVELAND, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

WE, CITIZENS OF THE TERRITORY OF ARIZONA,

In appreciation and recognition of the valuable services rendered us, in removing from our midst the blood-thirsty Apache Indians, who have for years depredated our country and murdered our people with a ruthless hand, we desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to you for selecting, as the medium of their disposition, the efficient and capable officer, General Miles.

It is also our desire to call your attention to the manner in which their well planned campaign was conducted by the untiring efforts and unceasing zeal of Captain Lawton and Lieutenant Gatewood, who pursued and subjugated these wily foes. It is our desire and wish that these gentlemen receive credit and recognition for the valuable services rendered us.

Big Seizure.

Collector of Customs Wilson, of this city, hearing that some Mexicans, near Wilcox, had violated the U. S. customs laws, telegraphed to Deputy Sheriff Crowley, at Wilcox, yesterday, and had him seize twenty-five horses that the Mexicans had in their possession, and will send Mounted Inspector Kelton over to Wilcox to bring the horses and Mexicans into Tombstone. There are thirteen mares, eleven colts and one stallion. The above news being gleaned as THE TOMSTONE was going to press, further particulars of the seizure can not be published in this issue.

Great Scott! but local news was at a premium this 19th day of our Lord 1886.

Lost.—A Diamond ring. $50 dollars reward will be given for the return of the same to J. A. Rohrl. at the Willows Saloon.

Iron rust is readily removed by equal parts of common salt and cream of tartar moistened with water and applied to the rusted spots and placed in the sun-dry. Moisture as it becomes dry for two or three hours.

Hon. W. A. Harwood, Will A. Nash and Allen Walker, took their departure this morning for Benson. They will address the citizens of that place to-night and then proceed to Wilcox, Bowie, Dos Cabezas and other points.

By reference to a dispatch in another column it will be seen that Mangus and party were captured to-day near Fort Apache by Captain Cooper, and were brought into that camp at noon to-day. This is glorious news for the people of Arizona and New Mexico. This settles the Apache question.

Mr. Barnett, of the firm of J. Myers Bros., is expected to arrive in this city to-night. Mr. Barnett closed up his business at Kingston, and shipped his goods to this city. As THE TOMSTONE predicted, Kingston is no place to go to find work or to go into business.

The Chico Enterprise says: A nominee stepped into a Second street saloon with a crowd of his friends recently to treat them. "What will you have?" inquired the barkeeper in his blandest tones. "Well," replied the nominee, "I don't know what these other gentlemen want, but as for me, I'll take votes."

From Mr. Edwards, who is in the city from Fort Bowie, a reporter of THE TOMSTONE learned that a gigantic plot is on foot to ruin the character and good standing of those noble heroes, General Miles and Captain Lawton. Mr. Edwards is in the employ of the U. S. Government as a courier, and as such has been with Capt. Lawton and Gen. Miles throughout the entire campaign against the hostiles. Mr. Edwards states that he knows that the war department are endeavoring to remove General Miles from the command of the department of Arizona, so that the scheme can be bettered to blacken the fair names of Gen. Miles and Capt. Lawton.

A Tale of Matrimonial Adversity.

Any one brought up in a country newspaper office knows there's about as much fun and incident there to the square inch as it is possible to crowd into it. Scores of queer things transpired at the office in question which would be entertaining to relate. I have just time hurriedly to refer to one. A young man in the place answered an advertisement for a wife, published in a New York daily. A reply promptly came, and the advertiser proved to be a wealthy druggist, a Cuban by birth, and earnest in his intentions. Letters were rapidly exchanged, and the correspondence increased in tenderness. Photographs were exchanged, the young man sending that of the prettiest girl in the town. Next came from New York by express a handsome set of jewelry, worth at least $75. The pretended lady exhibited the letters and the jewelry, and the matter became the talk of the town; but with the talk came a day of retribution.

One morning the young man walked into the editor's office looking very woe-begone. "Do you know that I am in an awful tight place?" he said, with justifiable symptoms of alarm. "That Cuban is coming to town on Wednesday! Why, I'll be pointed out to him the minute he steps off the train. I don't want to run away and I don't want to be killed! You know how fiery these Cubans are." The young editor smiled, debated a minute, and then said: "For $5 I will get you out of the scrape." "Five dollars! I'll give you $25." The editor wrote as follows: "It is with great sorrow that we record the sudden death, yesterday morning, of our talented contributor, Miss Jennie Jardine, of Willow Creek Farm," etc., etc. The names looked real, and were the ones the young man had used. "Well, what then?" he asked. "I'll tell you said the editor. "The regular edition of the paper has been printed; the forms are still on the press; I'll have this set up, remove a local item of the same size, put this in place of it and print one copy. Get your sister to mark it and mail it at once to the honest fellow whom you have been deceiving." It was so managed, and accomplished its purpose. The broken hearted lover never visited the place. He wrote a touching letter of condolence to the pretended sister, and the incident was forgotten.—Philadelphia Call.

We Guess Not.

The following from the S. F. Stock Report in all events will do up slugger John L. Sullivan:

John L. Sullivan continues to decline in various parts of the country that his fight with Ryan in San Francisco will be no fizzle but "a fight to the bitter end." But if John L. Sullivan does not know, his managers knew quite well that no fight will be allowed here and that though Sullivan & Co may be allowed to advertise a fight to the bitter end and that if Sullivan intends to "do up" Ryan, Captain Douglas and posse will put a stop to the proceedings at the first appearance of earnestness on the part of the wearers of the gloves.

Mines Wanted.

Meech & Company of Cleveland, O desire to correspond with the owner of large and well developed properties in any country with the view of either purchasing the properties or furnishing money to place our machinery on or near them for the purpose of treating their refractory ore.

Send maps with full reports; state lowest price; no fancy figures. None need apply except those who own mines developed showing ore in large and paying quantities, and mean business. Capitalists seeking investments that will pay them 3 per cent, per month can find with us perpetual incomes paying at that rate, and we can prove it so to their satisfaction. All communications will be held in confidence. MEECH & COMPANY.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] WILLCOX, A. T., Oct. 19.—Mangus and party have been captured by Captain Cooper near Fort Apache, and brought into camp this noon by a detachment of troops. Indians number thirteen persons, five of whom are children.

Keane Bros. Square Up.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The assignees of Keane Bros. have filed a petition with the county clerk asking that they be discharged from their trust, as all claims against the firm have been settled by the acceptance of promissory notes for fifty-two cents on the dollar, as agreed. The assignees filed bond for $25,000, which they are now to have cancelled.

For Ten Years.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] NOGALES, Oct. 19.—A prominent Mexican here states that there is a movement on foot to change the entire Constitution of the Republic of Mexico, and declare President Diaz dictator for the term of ten years. Mexican politicians are very reticent regarding the proposed change in the Constitution. It is claimed by those who are in a position to know, that the only object in creating Diaz as Dictator, is to reward him for the successful administration of affairs during his term of office.

Henry George for Mayor.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The World says that the Irving Hall leaders held a conference last night and decided to endorse Henry George for Mayor, and nominate a full city and county assembly and judicial ticket. When this action was communicated to politicians late last night, it was generally admitted it would lend a considerable accession of strength to the Henry George movement. One politician said it would add from 5000 to 10,000 to Henry George's vote for Mayor, but it would not elect him.

Miss Cleveland Will Quit.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The Call's special from Chicago says: It is positively known that Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, the President's sister, has left the editorial chair of Literary Life, and that law suits for damages for violation of contract are to follow. The elder publisher is reported to have threatened in the event of Miss Cleveland's bringing suit to make public all of her private correspondence and summon to the witness stand President Cleveland and all the members of the Cleveland family. The trouble was caused by Miss Cleveland's demand for a larger share of the profits of Literary Life, which have risen from next to nothing to a very handsome figure.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] NOGALES, Oct. 19.—The repairs on the washouts on the Sonora railroad are completed and trains are now running regularly.

Born Drunk.

Special to THE DAILY TOMSTONE.] NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The infant son of a well known citizen of Westfield, N. J., though but just large enough to walk and talk, appears and acts like an intoxicated person. A local physician in conversation with a reporter gave a history of the case. It seems that the parents were very exemplary young people, and began their married life without a cloud to dim their future. No one in the town had better habits than the young husband, but some months after his marriage he lapsed a little from the path of strict temperance.

One winter evening the man went from his home, ostensibly "to watch with a sick member of the village lodge." He really visited Sam Goschalk's tavern. The trusting wife discovered at 9 o'clock that her husband had forgotten to purchase meat for breakfast and she went to the market. A stormy wind was blowing and the snow was falling, but as she passed the hotel the sound of a man's voice in song came to her ears. She listened for a moment. There was no mistaking her husband's voice, and scarcely knowing what she did, she looked in at the barroom window and saw her husband there in a beastly state of intoxication. Some time after this little episode a son was born to the parents—a fine, healthy infant, bright and comely. Several months later, when the child began to walk and talk, they took him to a physician. The little one could not walk without staggering in a most unseemly and ridiculous manner, and could not slip baby words without a strange hiccough and hesitation. The doctor averring that if he had seen such symptoms in an adult he should have pronounced them due to intoxication and nothing else, with little difficulty he obtained an account the unfortunate maternal impression that provoked the peculiar malady with which the child is afflicted. No line of medical treatment could be of use in such a case, and reluctantly the physician gave up the infant boy to endure his strangely miserable life. "There is nothing like catalepsy about the case," the doctor explained. "There is no healthier child in town. As near as I can explain it, the child has muscles and nerves in that condition of action which the father showed when the mother's impression of his intoxication was received. There are no fits or convulsions, though a tremor is always present. In spite of this fact there is no mental weakness. There is no co-ordination in the movement of the lower limbs, and the hands are almost as bad off. His gait is heavy and insecure—a regular drunken reel or stagger. As to his speech, it is not only incoherent and rambling, but he has all of the phenomena of exhilaration or excitement characteristic of the earlier stages of intoxication. His ideas seem to flow rapidly, and all of the senses are wonderfully acute, but there are the muscular tremblings and the actual shambling gait of the drunkard."

"It's recovery is to be hoped for," the reporter asked.

"No," the doctor answered. "It is a hopeless case—impossible to cure. That boy, if he lives, will have the continued appearance of drunkenness, and it can not be helped. He is drunk—naturally drunk—and yet he may become a great scholar, he will never outgrow this malady."

Professor Tuck gave a public exhibition of his submarines torpedo-boat Peacemaker, in North River. The pilot took his place amidships with his head inside the windowed dome which rises two feet above the deck. The engineer followed him and firmly screwed down the man-hole from the inside. The vessel started up the river at six miles an hour. By the use of lateral rudders she sank below the surface almost immediately and appeared again about a half a mile up the river after a submersion of five minutes. On her second trip the Peacemaker made the longest dive yet attempted, from one and a half to two miles, passing under two steamers and rising within ten feet of a canal-boat.
